Advanced Voice Communication Services to Lighten Your Load

If your business is like most today, you're likely still using phone technology that's over 100 years old. In fact, 75% of businesses continue to rely on traditional voice services, even though they could achieve significant savings by migrating to VoIP services.* And you're not just wasting money—you're struggling with how to address a highly mobile workforce, the need for collaboration tools, and reducing your IT complexity along with costs.

With a VoIP solution from CenturyLink, you can increase efficiency and improve productivity while transforming your voice system to meet today's business needs. Our VoIP portfolio also provides a variety of advanced, cloud-based features to simplify communications and increase collaboration. Lighten the load on your IT team by taking advantage of features that ease IT complications and enable your increasingly mobile staff.

Extend our network with CenturyLink Managed Office. We can design, install, operate, update, and manage your voice and data services for you. Managed Office includes reliable IP connectivity, Hosted VoIP services, and essential cloud-based business productivity applications with dedicated support and management. CenturyLink offers a wide range of VoIP solutions to fit within your business goals, existing network architecture, and budget.
