The Future of Collaboration is Here

Today's workforce has changed dramatically. Employees use laptops and tablets to answer emails from home, at work, and their smart phones as they travel. Can your IT services handle the mobile and virtual demands of your employees, customers, and suppliers?

CenturyLink® Managed Enterprise: Hosted Collaboration Solution, a Cisco-powered service, allows your organization to be flexible, agile, and efficient. Gain a competitive advantage through empowering your workforce.

As an integral part of our Managed Enterprise offering, Hosted Collaboration Solution offers our signature White Glove service. We can also migrate an existing Communication Manager deployment to the cloud, leveraging any current seat license investments you may have. We can also provide additional voice, data, and managed services to enhance your experience, all on a per-seat solution tailored to your specific business needs.

WHAT IT DOES

- Creates agility and flexibility within your business
- Frees up IT resources
- Provides predictable costs
- Simplifies and saves time with centralized administrative and management tasks

WHAT YOU CAN DO

- Quickly scale up or down
- Eliminate capital expense for upgrades, maintenance, and support
- Reduce total cost of ownership
- Replace an aging voice or video communication system
- Use video to enable a mobile workforce

Deciding on the Right Solution

A Managed Enterprise: Hosted Collaboration Solution delivers consistency, flexibility, with minimized upfront investments. Security is so fundamental that we offer secure real-time transport protocol (SRTP) for both media and signaling natively. Standard configurations and per-seat pricing are designed to help you find the right solution for your business needs and goals so you can cut through the hype, save money, and migrate effortlessly and flawlessly.
